Money Letters.

Public attention is called to the following extract from the Hongkong Postal Guide, Paragraph 60—

"The Post Office declines all responsibility for unregistered letters containing Bank Notes and, where Registration has been applied, will make no inquiries into alleged losses of Money Letters."

No responsibility can be accepted by the Post Office for erroneous replies to verbal inquiries, or to notes addressed to subordinate officers. The subscribers to call to call stamps should especially Boxes of letters are sometimes received at the Post Office not sealed, that is to say, the box is not secured with sealing wax, but there is no impression of a seal.

The omission of a cork or of a corkboard is called to the necessity of carefully sealing such boxes with some recognizable seal, and of sending a receipt note or receipt with them. The omission of the cork or corkboard leaves a doubt as to whether the contents of the box ever reached the Post Office; the omission of the former, as to whether part of them might not have been abstracted for the sake of the Postage Stamp.
